To Whom It May Concern:

The Indianapolis Police Department (IPD) has had a very beneficial relationship in the past with the government access facility, Channel 16. Their abilities and expertise have allowed the Indianapolis Police Department to attract community support and promote community awareness. In the past, Channel 16 has been used by IPD to profile local cases and criminals. Our crime stoppers program has been enhanced by its ability to use television media as a mode of depicting the photos of local criminals to the viewing public. Many new programs implemented by the police department have been showcased by Channel 16 to provide community awareness. Channel 16 has been a great avenue for public information, education and safety.

The Indianapolis Police Department is committed to public safety through community policing. Channel 16 has afforded an excellent tool to support our commitment. We hope to be able to continue our partnership with Channel 16 in the future. It has been my experience that we can accomplish great things and reach our highest goals working together.

Sincerely,

The Indianapolis Police Department Certificate of Appreciation

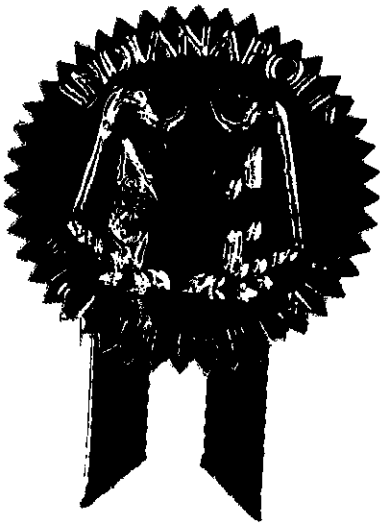

Greetings: Know ye all by these presents that

is hereby awarded this Certificate of Appreciation

In recognition of accomplishment and worthiness this certificate is hereby awarded. By this instrument we now call upon all Officers of the Indianapolis Police Department and the Citizens of Indianapolis to recognize this individual for Distinguished Service to the Community of Indianapolis and the Indianapolis Police Department.

In witness hereof, I have set my hand and caused the Seal of the Indianapolis Police Department to be affixed. Given this 17th day of July, 2001.

SESQUICENTENNIAL COMMEMORATIVE BADGE

PRESENTED TO
ALAN DHAYER

FOR INVALUABLE SUPPORT AND DEDICATION TO THE INDIANAPOLIS POLICE DEPARTMENT IN ENHANCING ITS IMAGE AND PROMOTING ITS MISSION OF PUBLIC SAFETY

The IPD SCB was designed and manufactured by retired IPD Officer John Kasper, with input from IPD Sgt. Steve Staletovich. The IPD SCB incorporates the inverted five-point star, the department's first badge (1854) and the classic IPD Shield (1926-present). The three-toned design represents the entire police department with the silver (and largest) area representing patrol officers, the backbone of the department; the gold ribbons representing the supervisory staff and the antique-finish original badge representing the department's rich history. The lettering is in black to honor the memory of the 55 IPD Officers who have given their lives in the line of duty. This is a rare and valuable badge that attests to both the artistry in steel and the proud tradition of the finest police department in the United States of America.

The Indianapolis Police Department

Certificate of Appreciation

Greetings: Know ye all by these presents that

is hereby awarded this Certificate of Appreciation.

The Indianapolis Police Department is privileged to award this plaque to Alan Dhayer who has memorialized the efforts of the department to reach and support the men and women who dedicate their lives to this department and the public they serve

His endeavor to portray the human spirit and its need for support during times of personal crisis has produced a documentary of great sensitivity. For his generous spirit and faithful portrayal of our vision, we will forever be grateful.

In witness hereof, I have set my hand and caused the Seal of the Indianapolis Police Department to be affixed this 23rd day of October, 2002.

Dear Mr. Maultra;

I received an email from Earl Harris that indicates to me that there may be changes made in the cable franchise agreement that might adversely affect ETC, and consequently IUPUI's interests. I have been slow to respond, because I have been very busy this week before classes start. I have to distribute to new students information on our web courses and the schedules for our television courses on ETC. We currently have 15 courses on ETC. These courses are also available to students as DVD's that they can purchase, and all but one are digitized and on the web. Not all students have the high speed internet connection one needs for video, or can afford to the $120 to buy the DVD's. It is very important to us that we have an inexpensive alternative for our students in Marion County. These IUPUI courses belong to the Kelley School of Business, the School of Liberal Arts, and the School of Music, and it is important to them, too.

I hope that nothing hasty will be done regarding the cable franchise agreement until those of us who have an interest in it have had an opportunity to determine what is being done, when it is being done, and given the opportunity to have input into this process. That, I think would be the bare minimum requirement.

Dear Rick:

I'd like to thank you for providing the Indiana State Library Video Service Center with consistently well-made video programming on Indiana history. On average, about 35% of our Indiana public library patrons purchase one of your videos every time it is offered on our quarterly "New Videos" list.

I am especially looking forward to your piece on Irvington and your new John Dillenger program. I am sure both titles will be very popular on our "New Videos" list.

Thanks again for the Hoosier History series and enabling the State Library to make these programs available to all Indiana public libraries.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Maultra:

This is to say thank you for an excellent video presentation of the life of African-Americans in Indianapolis. This project represented, some through research, a considerable effort of collecting artifacts and an artistic creativity in utilizing skills in making it into a final historic piece.

Certainly this film will make a valuable contribution to the Crispus Attucks Center for African-American History and Multi-Cultural Education. It is expected that this video will be used in an introduction and orientation for the Center by the thousands of potential visitors anticipates after the opening.

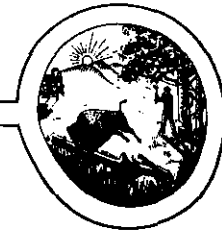

Once again we say thank you for your great effort in producing this documentary.

Dear Mr. Maultra:

I'm writing to express my appreciation for the five half-hour segments of HOOSIER HISTORY you shared with us this past January. They've been added to the collection of video programming made available through this Department's Instructional Video Service to the schools of Indiana, and have already generated some interest among educators. As you and I have discussed, it is an ongoing problem for us to identify and acquire -- at any price -- high quality Indiana-related materials for our schools, and so I'm especially grateful that you were willing to share those programs with us free of charge.

It's my understanding that you've recently produced yet another half-hour segment in the HOOSIER HISTORY series. I'd really like to add it to our collection, and for that reason I'm herewith including a 3/4-U cassette in the hope that you'll be able to submaster the new segment and send it to me.

Again, thank you for HOOSIER HISTORY and the other programming you've shared with us. Please keep up the good work.

Sincerely;

Dear Mr. Maultra:

Randy Starks at the State Library has just made seven episodes of your Hoosier History series available to the Resource Center media collection of the Indiana Humanities Council as per the State Library's agreement with Channel 16.

I am writing now to tell you how much we appreciate the service you and your colleagues have provided the community through the production of these useful and informative programs.

The IHC Resource Center lends videotapes, films, exhibits and a variety of other materials, free of charge, to non-profit institutions around Indiana. The selection of your tapes that we are including in our collection will, we believe, have great appeal particularly to our secondary school users, as well as to individuals and groups interested in doing research on specific subjects that the tapes address.

I have enclosed a copy of our latest Resource Center Catalog for your information and so that you can better gauge the scope of what the Resource Center does. We will publicize the acquisition of your tapes through supplementary mailings this Fall and will include your titles in our next printing.

Thanks again for your good work.

Dear Mr. Maultra,

I find as with so many things which we might have an interest in and which we find to be of high quality, a lack of time or thought of telling someone about their important work. As the department chair for history and the social sciences at Lawrence North High School, I must let you know that I use your "Hoosier Heritage" titles in a number of my classes. I find that the local coverage enables the students to feel connected with the wider world. Students have a feeling that events do not only occur other places, such as New York or Los Angeles. The series contributes to their feeling of connectedness.

The quality of your work in this series is outstanding. It is surely proof of your personal talents and of your persistence of seeing a worthwhile project for our community to be carried through to completion. I hope that the leaders of our community are aware of your contributions to all of us and especially to our children, that they will permit us to continue to have your talents used in this manner. At times, we and leadership can be shortsighted. Failure to note your work and failure to keep your work on-going would be senseless.

I want to thank you on behalf of myself and on behalf of my department members and on behalf of the children of Lawrence Township for your excellent work and civic enthusiasm for Indianapolis and its past and present.

The best of luck to you and to your family,

Sincerely,

Our congratulations once again on your award winning efforts on capturing the African-American community on video tape. We are very proud of your efforts and feel you deserve such recognition.

This letter is also to request video copies of the seven (7) documentaries you have produced on ethnic groups in America. This will become vital educational material to the Crispus Attucks Center as we seek to fulfill the raising request for multicultural resource material. Not only will we utilize these video's in our Center but will be able to service the entire IPS population through our loan service.

Once again, we continue to support you as you provide the Indianapolis community with interesting, meaningful and enjoyable media material.

Dear Sir,

This is a letter of support and commendation to you in your efforts to produce documentaries focusing on the ethnic communities of Indianapolis. We were particularly pleased with the work of Rick Maltra and Brad Sims in producing the videos "Street of Dreams, Lockfield Gardens, Crispus Attucks High School and African American History". These works all combined to capture a visual history of people and places important to the lives of African-Americans.

This effort is one that we support wholeheartedly and urge your continuation of a series that is having a national impact.

Your station has been very kind to duplicate tapes for usage by educators, community members and by business professionals. I have shipped these tapes to New York, Washington D.C. and California. All recipients have been more than pleased.

Once again, we appreciate your efforts and thank your staff for their dedication in presenting notable material to the Indianapolis Community.

I have a request. If it can be worked out, keep Channel 16 operating. We have benefited greatly from some of its programming, especially the series describing and illustrating the historic ethnic background of our city. Ric Moultra did a thorough exploration and a fine job in the filming.

We have used the tapes frequently and appreciate the outlining of the contributions of the Catholic Church in the making of Indianapolis, as well as those of other religious groups.

I believe Channel 16 has been and could be used in many other creative ways to enhance our city.
